

Wiki Searching with Alfred.app

Those of you using Mac systems might have come across Alfred.app which is a shortcut/search/application launcher for MacOS.

You can configure it to do custom searches here on the LAMS Documentation, so that you can search straight from your mac desktop, like so:

To add the custom search to your Alfred install, just click here — Alfred will pick up the search string automatically and ask you to install.

You can download and install Alfred from the app store or straight from the developers website.
